

We can see in the generic tweets, a large part of words that appear most are positive words. we can say there is a friendly and kind relationship between people behind these tweets.

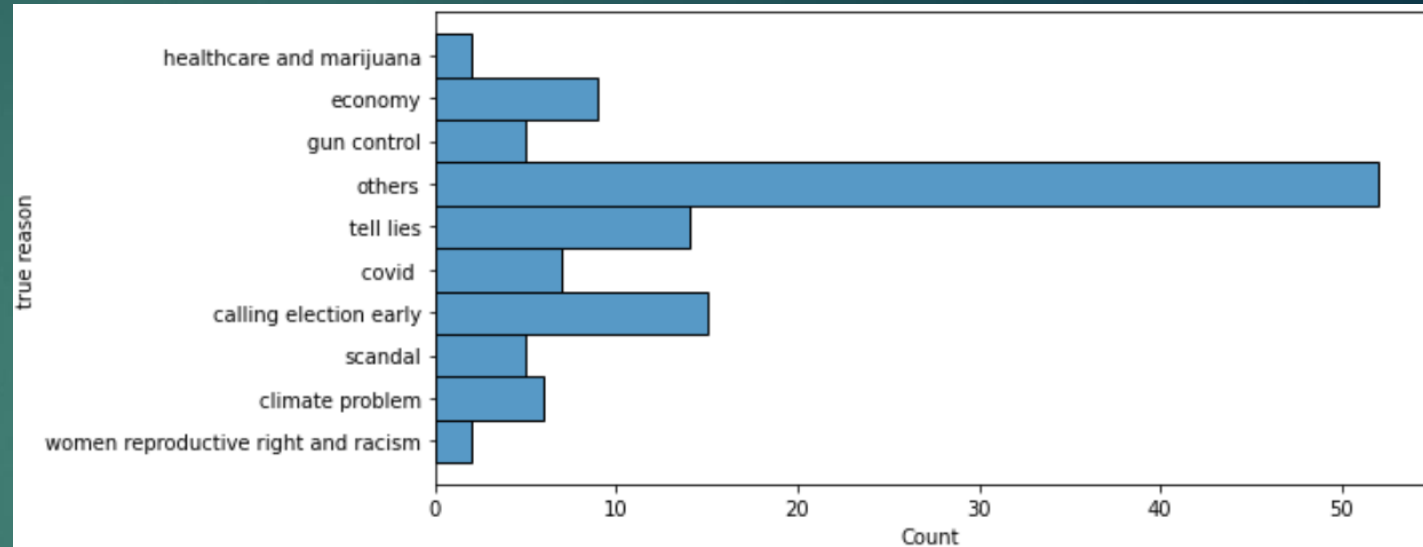

In election tweets, Trudeau and O'toole are hot topics.

Canadian election tweets word cloud

We can see the count of two sentiment tweets towards the four parties here

Negative reasons for the negative tweets, except others, people hate the lies and early election during the covid-19